The Fine Print

NOTICE

The information presented in this workshop is for educational purposes only.

It is not designed for nor should you rely on this presentation to provide legal guidance.

The contents of this presentation are not legal or tax advice, and you should always consult an attorney or accountant/CPA of your choosing to discuss specific legal or tax issues.

Purpose & Goal

"Decide what you want, decide what you are willing to exchange for it. Establish your priorities and go to work."
- H.L. Hunt

Purpose:

- To educate entrepreneurs on the criteria by which you should answer the question "What organizational structure makes the most sense for me and my new business?"

Goal:

- To enable and empower entrepreneurs to have a meaningful, well balanced and focused discussion with a CPA or Attorney.
- NOT to 'select' a business entity.

Bottom Line

"The buck stops here!"

- H.S. Truman

You are ultimately accountable and responsible for your business

- The most important decision you will make will be the selection of a legal structure for your business
 - You need to understand the legal responsibilities and limitations of your business form.
 - You need to understand the tax liability and reporting requirements of your business form.
 - Unofficial IRS Audit Motto: Guilty until proven innocent.
- Begin your business ownership fully informed.
 - Risk: Ensure that your business is not taking unnecessary risks. Your goal should be the 'sleep at night' policy.
 - Quality: Get it right the first time. Cost of rework is not just $$$ but your time away from your business.
 - ROI: Your biggest asset is your time. The time value of money.
 - Peer Networking: Ask business owners for advice. Entrepreneurial words of wisdom "Do what you do best and hire the rest!"
 - Decision Making: Information gathering and analysis.

It Depends.... On What??

"If you don't know where you are going, any road will do."

- Lao-Tzu

- The IRS
 - Liability Protection
 - Recordkeeping
- Business Management Considerations
 - Ownership
 - Managerial Flexibility
 - Exit Strategy

The Myth

- There is no perfect form
- One form is not necessarily better than another
- One size does not fit all businesses
- It is a trade-off ... cost vs.. benefit vs.. risk ... which is unique to you and your business

"If you don't know where you are, a map won't help."
- T. Peters

So what do I choose ????

It depends....

Reality

State law controls the formation of your business.
Federal tax law controls how your business is taxed.

- All businesses have an organization form
 - If an organization form is NOT selected a default applies
- All businesses must file a tax return with the IRS
 - The tax form you use will depend on how your business is organized
- 3 most common tax forms used:
 - Schedule C form 1040
 - Partnership form 1065
 - S-Corp. form 1120S

Business Entity Options

State law controls the formation of your business.

In Colorado

- Sole Proprietorship
- Partnerships
- Limited Liability Companies
- Corporations

Business Entity Options

Sole Proprietorship

- A business owned by one person with no legal structure.
- Presumed to operate under their owner's name.
 - File Trade Name Certificate(<http://www.sos.state.co.us>)
- Operate using owner's SSN
 - Apply for an FEIN: SS-4
(<http://www.irs.gov/businesses/small>)
- Considerations:
 - No required legal forms (recordkeeping)
 - Schedule C
 - No personal liability protection (liability)
 - Owner has complete control
 - Business ceases to exist when owner ceases doing business

Business Entity Options

Partnerships

- General Partnerships, LLC, LLP, LLLP, LPA
- A business with more than one owner who actively engages in the management of the company.
- Considerations:
 - Each partner has unlimited personal liability, including actions taken by other partners.
 - Most businesses that enter into a partnership actually form an LLC

Business Entity Options

Limited Liability Companies (LLC)

- A legal form which provides liability protection for the business owner/s.
- Considerations:
 - Personal liability protection
 - Profits can be distributed unevenly.
 - Limited in the number of owners (investors).
 - Multiple taxation election.
 - Sole Proprietor
 - Partnership
 - S-Corp

Business Entity Options

Corporations

- C Corporations; non pass-through entity
 - An entity that handles the responsibilities of the business.
 - The owner of the corporation is a shareholder.
 - Considerations:
 - Double taxation – Form 1120
 - Payroll (withholding and remittance, W2, etc.)
 - Retained earnings
- S Corporation; pass-through entity
 - A type of corporation that provides personal liability but permits pass through taxation. IRS Form 2553.
 - Considerations:
 - Cannot distribute profits unevenly.
 - Payroll (withholding and remittance, W2, etc.)
 - Limited number of shareholders (100) & one class of stock

Business Entity Options

S Corporations

– IRS Rules

- Election made with IRS within first 75 days of any (Form 2553 must be signed by all shareholders/members)
- Cannot have more than 100 shareholders/members
- All shareholders/members must be individuals (some exceptions)
- All shareholders/members must be US citizens or resident aliens
- One class of stock

– Tax Consequences

- Divide net profits into (1) wages and (2) owner distributions
- Owners must pay themselves reasonable wages
- Wages are taxed as ordinary income, including FICA (15.3%)
- Owner distributions are not subject to FICA
- Form 1120S by March 15

Business Entity Options

Common IRS Tax Forms

- 1040 – Individual/Married tax return
 - Schedule C – Report business income/loss for sole proprietor or single member LLC
- 1099 – Information return letting IRS know that you paid a contractor for their services
- W-2 – Reports wage and salary information for employees
- W-4 – Employee withholding certificate, filled out by employee so your employer knows how much tax to withhold
- W-9 – in order to obtain the information needed to fill out a 1099, you have the company who performed services fill out a W-9
- 1065 - Partnership tax return – Multi-member LLC
- 1120 – C corporation tax return
- 1120S – S corporation tax return – Single or multi-member LLC
- 2553 – S corporation election
- Other sales tax forms

The Criteria

Liability

Definition: The degree to which the business owner is personally liable for all financial obligations and debts of the business.

- Piercing the Corporate or LLC Veil. Liability protection provided by an organization form is 'almost always' guaranteed as long as the business is regarded as a separate entity from the business owner/s.
- Practices that support limited liability protection:
 - Proper use of the corporate name; hold yourself out as an LLC
 - Segregated accounts; don't co-mingle funds
 - Comply with legal entity formation requirements

The Criteria

Ownership

- The number of individuals and the types of entities that can invest in a company.
 - Ownership vs. management
 - Ownership vs. profit split

The Criteria

Managerial Flexibility

- Who has control over the business?
 - Buy / Sell agreements
 - Operating agreements
 - Partnership agreements

The Criteria

Record Keeping

- The amount of paperwork your business is required to complete (besides income & expenses):
 - For an LLC
 - Annual report/minutes
 - For an S-Corp
 - Board of Directors
 - By Laws
 - Corporate Books
 - Shareholder Meetings / Corporate Minutes
 - Stock Certificates
- Supports the corporate veil

You have chosen Limited Liability Company.What it is...

- A limited liability company (LLC) is a structure allowed by state statute.
- An LLC is formed by filing articles of organization with the state's secretary of state office.
- An LLC must be unique in its state. There can be no more than one active LLC with the same name in the same state.
- For federal tax purposes, an LLC may be treated as a partnership or a corporation, or be disregarded as an entity separate from its owner.
- An LLC can have two or more members (multi-member) or one member (single-member).
- An LLC can have an unlimited number of members.
- An LLC's members may include individuals, corporations, other LLCs, or foreign entities.

What it is not...

- LLCs are not incorporated and do not file articles of incorporation.

If you need to change your type of structure, we recommend that you do so now, otherwise you will have to start over and re-enter your information. Additional help may be found by reviewing all types of organizations and structures before making your selection.

Due to the number of members in your limited liability company, you are considered a Single-Member Limited Liability Company (LLC) as the type of structure applying for an EIN.

- Since you are a single-member LLC, you will initially be classified as a disregarded entity for the purposes of filing a federal tax return.
 - If the only member of the LLC is an individual, the LLC income and expenses are reported on Form 1040 (U.S. Individual Income Tax Return), Schedule C, E, or F.
 - If the only member of the LLC is not an individual, the LLC income and expenses are reported on the owner/member's tax return.
- If you do not wish to accept the default classification of disregarded entity, you can:
 - File Form 8832 (Entity Classification Election) to elect corporate status, or
 - File Form 2553 (Election by a Small Business Corporation) to elect S corporation status.
- Single-member LLCs may not file a partnership return.

If you need to change your type of structure, we recommend that you do so now, otherwise you will have to start over and re-enter your information. Additional help may be found by reviewing all types of organizations and structures before making your selection.

If the information is not correct as shown above, please make the correction using the attached form and mail it to the IRS.

A United Liability company (ULC) may file Form 8870, Single Member Limited Liability Company, and elect to be classified as an association taxable as a corporation. The ULC will be treated as a corporation as of the effective date of the S corporation election and does not need to file Form 8870.

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. The TIN provided must match the record (given on line 1) to avoid backup withholding. For individuals, this is generally your social security number (SSN). However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the Part I instructions on page 3. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see how to get a TIN on page 3.

Note: If the social title is more than six digits, see the instructions for line 1 and the chart on page 4 for guidance on where a number to enter.

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

- The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (I am waiting for a number to be issued to me) and
- I am not subject to backup withholding because (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividend income to the IRS, and I am not subject to backup withholding, and
- I am a U.S. citizen or other U.S. person (defined below) and
- The FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that I am exempt from FATCA reporting is correct.

Certification instructions: You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For resident aliens, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, change of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and, generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign this certification, but you must provide your correct TIN.
